Dear Mr. Bower,

I don't think I've ever been so close to a Teacher than you. You have a place in my heart that I'll cherish forever. After our little talks about Perry, I used to go home and think what you said. You have some great ideas about life and you know how to live. If there were more people like you in the world we couldn't ask for more. I'm really gonna miss you next year with your wise cracks and remarks. I think the reason we got along so well is because we both have the same ideas. (I'll let you think about that one!) I'll still expect to see your face in the mornings next year. Take care of yourself and God Bless you and your family.

Love you alot,

Claine

Academics

A graduate of Fairmont State College and West Virginia University, Perry's new assistant principal Mr. James Miller quickly assumed his various responsibilities of being in charge of attendance, discipline, finding substitute teachers and being a "back-up man" for Mr. Beatty. Many of his responsibilities were of a nature not always conducive to popularity but those who had such dealings with him learned that he acted in all fairness and no grudge remained once the discipline was met.

Before coming to the Perry district, Mr. Miller lived two years in Bremen then taught for thirteen years in Dover where his instruction responsibilities included biology, physical education, coach and athletic director.

During his fifth year as Perry High School principal, Mr. Dale Beatty saw an increased student enrollment compensated by a growing faculty, and once again his sense of humor, vigor, and enthusiasm were keys to his successful carrying out of school functions. Pep rallies maintained a new high in school spirit, primarily under his guidance, as students cheered a winning football team to Federal League honors.

Mr. Beatty is also known for his high moral standards in regard to education and personal character and his fairness with students brought him support and respect. He is a graduate of Fairmont State College and West Virginia State University with a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees respectively.

Perry schools stay on top

With an increased school enrollment in 1970-71, Perry's Board of Education acquired additional responsibilities and along with these some new headaches. As overcrowded conditions again began to appear on the horizon, there began the possibility of new problems and the need for future planning. Perry's school system has always been successful in staying on top, although at times the going wasn't easy.

This year saw the opening of the new T.C. Knapp Elementary School, increased bus service, more library books and periodicals, and new up-to-date materials for more effective teaching.

Administration and faculty unite to guide student life

Students at Perry are fortunate to have a faculty that is well equipped in preparing them for the future. Their personalities are varied and their ideas are individual. These qualified people create the atmosphere which is vital to learning processes and teach what students must know to succeed in life as they further reach out into the world.

Though seldom recognized for their contribution to Perry High School, the cafeteria workers remain a vital asset. These are the people who busy themselves with preparing meals for the faculty and students and by keeping the eating area clean at all times. Without their cooks and cafeteria aids, Perry's student body would be lacking in a necessary daily service. Therefore, this space is dedicated to them with a thanks for appeasing the prevalent "famine" among the students and teachers.

Perry is indebted to its custodians for a well kept building. These men are experts when it comes to changing a lightbulb, repairing damaged equipment, and preparing the gymnasium and auditorium for assemblies. They are indispensable in keeping Perry in top condition and they deserve an immense amount of credit for their services.

The season was one of tense expectation. Could the Panthers repeat as Federal League Champions? Even the players wondered if they could match their predecessors. Their opener in Fawcett Stadium against the Timken Trojans threw little light on the answer. It was a game of inches. The Panthers were in and out of trouble during the entire game and barely edged the Trojans 22-20. The next game showed even less of the greatness to come. Leading the Hoover Vikings through the entire game the Panthers faltered in the fourth quarter losing 13-6. Then the long climb to the top began.

Perry starts slow, finishes strong

With the invasion of the Canton South Wildcats, the Perry Panthers finally came of age. After a shaking beginning in which Canton South scored on the first play from scrimmage, the Panthers took control of the ball and the game. Scoring three times Perry shutout the Wildcats until late in the fourth quarter, winning 20-14.

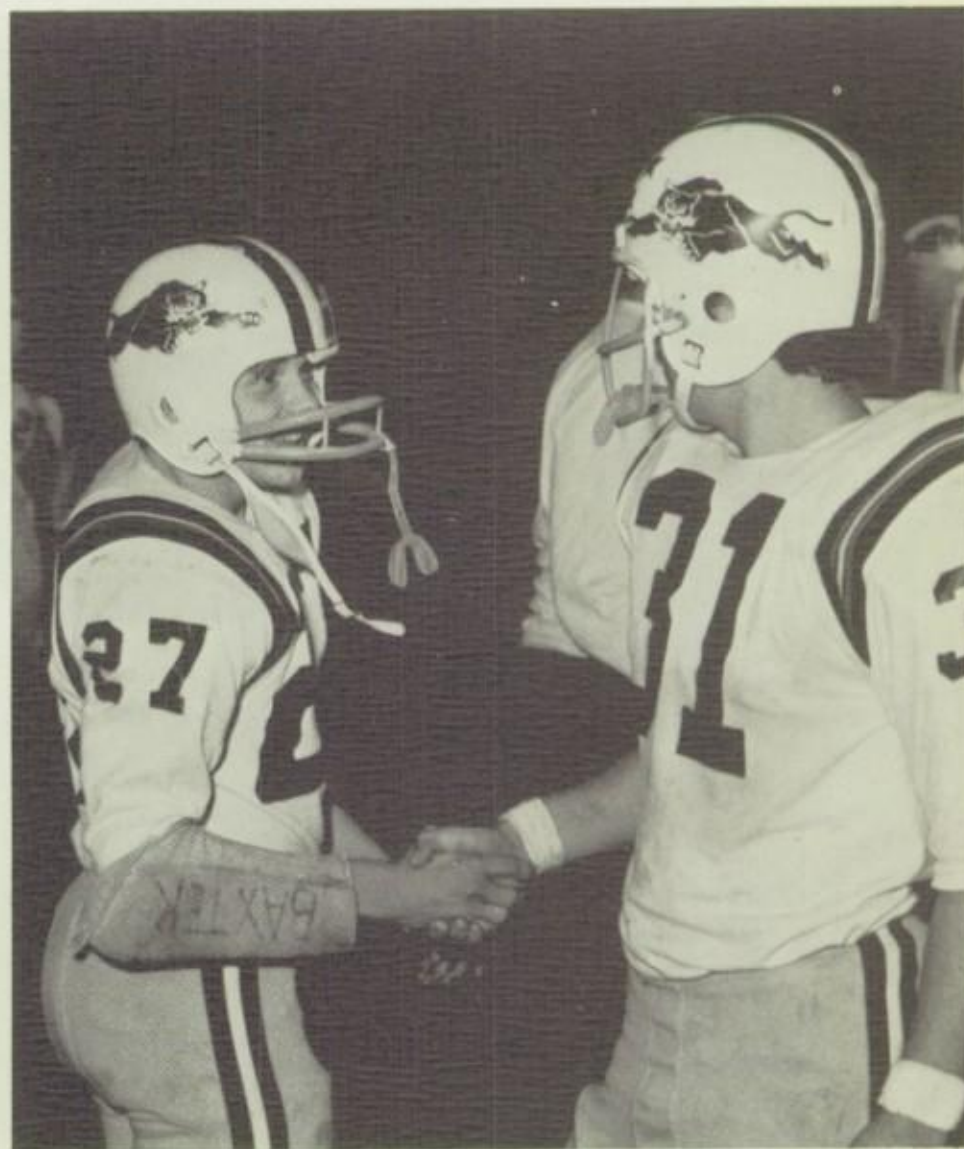

For the next three games, Perry rolled with keen precision over Oakwood, 26-0; Fairless 38-12; and Salem 26-8. Running into an inspired Glenwood squad the Perry Panthers suffered a heart-breaking defeat, 12-6. Then the Panthers outlasted Jackson, 16-12, and Louisville, 15-13, before rolling over Marlinton, 33-9, to win the Federal League Crown.

The 1970-71 basketball team proved to be a hustling and inspired club. Although inconsistent at times, their attitude defeated taller and stronger opponents. With a decided lack of height, the Panthers still earned an 11-7 season, and fourth place in the Federal League. A crop of talented underclassmen seem to insure the Panthers' continued success.

The Perry grapplers ended their regular season with a record of 7-5. The matmen earned a 4-4 league record for a share of fourth place. The leaders in the Panther win column were Steve Negulic, 9-1; Jim Luke, 11-1; and Jeff Hambach, 11-1. Baseballers develop talent 1970 was the year of the Panther pitchers. Although Perry's won and lost record fell short of their goal, the Panther's pitching staff showed great development and promise. The Panther pitching staff was bolstered by sophomore Willie Gates and senior Richard Barnhardt. A strong infield combination of underclassmen, Steve Meredith, Chip DeParis and Tom Bryden provided the defence so vital to a winning team. With ten returning lettermen, the Panthers will once again be after the crown.

Cindermen run to record season

The Panther tracksters responded to the reigns of first year coach Bob Bird with the best season in Perry track history. Led by veterans Tim Laps, Earl Harbin, and Paul Morey, the Perry track team raced to a 8-1 duel meet record, their only loss being to McKinley by a single point. The Panthers proceeded to gain a third place finish in the Federal League meet. With returning lettermen Earl Harbin, Paul Morey, and Wayne Rowe, the Panthers will once again be a strong track threat.

The varsity foursome of Mark Grovemiller, Terry Evans, Denny Lenartowicz, and Alex Bikis scored a record-breaking fourteen wins. Cheerleaders boost team spirit

The 1970-71 Cheerleaders began their activities in June by attending camp in Hartland, Michigan. Then, throughout the summer months and school year they put many hours into practicing their new cheers, making signs, and attending the gymnastic clinics. Cheering at football and basketball games and at pep rallies, they lead the school in spirit and enthusiasm. Other duties such as decorating the locker room and school halls gave Perry great spirit.

Going off to tournaments in Columbus, Toledo and Beverly is lots of fun, and this year's most often debated issue has been, "Resolved that the federal government should establish, finance and administer programs to control air and water pollution in the United States." Although this has been a most popular subject for formal argument, logic and reasoning were necessary in defeating the opposition.

Business market awaits Perry F.S.A.

Students of above average scholastic achievement are members of Future Secretaries of America. They strive to create interest in the business world by having an expanded program of information on business trends and jobs in the business world. Their goal is to aim high and to set and accept high professional standards.

Future Secretaries are "stimulated" into learning the fundamentals of geographical filing.

The Cooperative Office Education (C.O.E.) program is designed to give seniors actual work experience in an office related job. These students attend classes in the morning and work in an office during the afternoon.

This year the C.O.E. students attended the Fourth Annual Convention held at Atwood Lake Lodge where more than 500 students took part in the activities. In March the officers attended the State Convention held in Columbus.

Tom Wat products, a car wash, and a paper drive provided money for two projects during the year. One project was to give over 30 presents in addition to food for a needy family at Christmas. The other project was the employer-employees appreciation banquet to which the supervisors of the students were invited.

P.B.X. aids in running smooth office

The Perry High School P.B.X. Office Girls work daily in the main office as directed by Mrs. Harry Hall, secretary, and Mrs. Richard English, bookkeeper. The group is not a club, but "service" is their motto. They assist in many ways and they project good public relations and aid the teachers, by running off tests, taking messages, meeting the public and working constantly to keep an efficient office. The girls enjoy a Christmas party each year in December at which time they have a dinner and gift exchange.

At all times, the Perry P.B.X. girls are ready to "serve" and make a pleasant appearance and are prepared to help where, when and whatever they are needed for.

The Athletic Office girls are selected to help the main office and Mr. Hall run Perry's business affairs smoothly. the girls count money, answer phones, sell tickets, type for the Athletic Officials. In the words of Mr. Hall, "We just don't know what we would do without them."

Ninth Period's official ticket counter, Carol Carmen, does her work diligently.

Under the direction of Mr. Houk, the guidance department has become an area upon which Perry students greatly depend. With the added services of Mrs. Beifuss and Mr. Kirkland, students have access to a wide variety of information and help.

This department distributes vocational information, aids in student employment and computes point averages.

Personal and group counseling is a part of this program as well as telling about and advising students in the selecting of colleges and places of employment.

Packing food for needy families is a rewarding experience for Kathy Tyler, Linda Mills, Kathy Staley, and Sue Hare.

Activity was the big thing in Future Homemakers this year, starting with a picnic at Perry Park, and ending with a mother-daughter banquet in May.

Balloon sales during football season and a Tupperware party helped to raise money for the club's projects. By combining resources with the Key Club, several needy families in the area were helped at Christmas time. Educational materials and a large toy automobile used for therapy were purchased for the mentally retarded school in Canton.

On the fun side, members had a slumber party at Linda Mills' in the fall and a Christmas party at Becky Letcher's. Members went as a group to the Players Guild and saw a production of the hilarious play "Mame."

National Honor Society members are characterized by their three point or above average, their qualities in leadership, service, and character, and their willingness to assist students by tutoring them.

An induction ceremony is held each spring for the student body and parents of the newly selected members. Following the assembly, the inductees and their parents are honored at a tea in the library.

Scrambling for pictures, writing copy, selling ads and meeting deadlines is just a part of what goes into the making of the "Clock." Hard work and many late hours do quite a bit to make our yearbook what it is.

This years staff began working last June when they went to the Taylor Publishing Company office in Columbus and spent the day laying out the general format of the book. At that time they selected the cover, decided on the theme and special effects, and drew up a tentative schedule of work.

As the year progressed dozens of pictures were taken, and a like number of copy sheets drawn up.

Many hours were spent working after school. Those were the times when staffers would go out to "dinner" and have their special selection of food — hamburgers, french fries and coke.

Quill and Scroll has the best in journalism

The combined memberships of the yearbook and newspaper staffers who must set requirements comprise Quill & Scroll, an international honorary society of journalism students. In order for yearbookers to become eligible, the individual must sell a minimum of one hundred dollars in advertising for the Clock, and spend twenty-four hours on a specific work project.

The newspaper workers, in order to be eligible, must write and have published in the Panther's View, one-hundred column inches.

F.T.A. gain insights to teaching

Gaining the experience of a teacher in both elementary and high school is a part of belonging to Future Teachers. Members take over classes, tutor special students and grade papers. On Saturday a number of the members work at the Stark Country Child Development Center.

Playing teacher is fun for Pat Reidenbach especially with such willing pupils.

Medical Arts Club gives insight on medical careers

Students interested in medical careers gain much insight into such professions through the activities of Medical Arts Club.

Discussions, outside speakers and trips through area hospitals and institutions help members to understand and develop interest in many fields of medical science.

All listen intently as Beth Shallenberger reads the minutes of the previous meeting.

Mr. Bowen,
I think you are an absolutely great teacher, who has a great sense of humor.
You treat everyone like friend instead of an inferior. I sure wish you'd take it easy - you're always rushing and busy as a bee.
God Bless you always.

Mr. Jack Bowen,

Well, ol' buddy, this is my senior year & a lot of things will end for me, but luckily, I'll be taking a lot of memories with me. One of those will be beautiful memories of my teachers. I can honestly say that your memory will be the most memorable to me. I'll think about you & cry & laugh. Cry because I'll miss you terribly, but I'll laugh (good God, will I laugh) most of all just to think of those utterly hilarious times we've ~~had~~ - those dirty stories, jokes, looks we've shared - we really understand each other. Thanks so much for your devotion, your concern & thanks for giving yourself. That's what makes you the teacher of all times - you give of yourself & whatever you have to offer. Thanks for letting me be myself! Very few people allow me that pleasure!

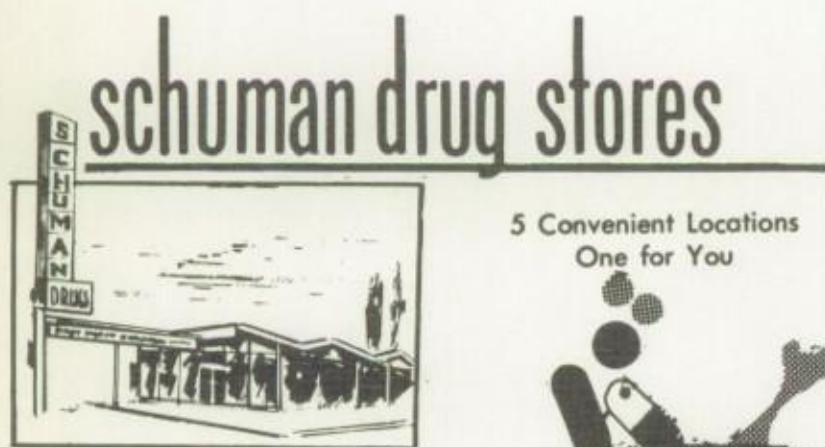

Go with God's blessings,
Mr. Bowen! You deserve it!

Love,
Laurie

Mr. Bowen,

I tried to find an obscure little place, and this is what I found! So...

I want to take this time to express my thanks to you. Not only for algebra, but for just talking to me - it really helped. Every girl needs to just talk to an older man sometimes - and as I said - you really helped me.

(Oh, also,

thanks for the jokes!

Did you hear me

or about...

Yes, thanks for everything Mr. Bowen.

God Bless,

Mari Heasley

Yearbooks are for now and forever. The message in this poem is also for now and ever. We would like to end our book with this thought.

THE MAN IN THE GLASS

When you get what you want in your struggle for self
And the world makes you King for a day,
Just go to the mirror and look at yourself,
And see what that man has to say.

For it isn't your father or mother or wife
Whose judgement upon you must pass,
The fellow whose verdict counts most in your life
Is the one staring back from the glass.

You may be like Jack Horner and chisel a plum
And think you're a wonderful guy,
But the man in the glass says you're only a bum
If you can't look him straight in the eye.

He's the fellow to please — never mind all the rest,
For He's with you clear to the end,
And you've passed your most dangerous, difficult test,
If the man in the glass is your friend.

You may fool the whole world down the pathway of years
And get pats on the back as you pass,
But your final reward will be heartaches and tears
If you've cheated the man in the glass.
